THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 24, 1899.

FEMALE EMIGRATION FROM HONGKONG.

TRUTH, like a modest young maiden, must often be very reticent on some points, especially in Colonial print, lest she perchance shock the ears of Colonial society; nevertheless, it is to be hoped that an excessive fear of ruffling stagnant pools will not prevent journalists in China from approaching subjects from which prudence might escape with upturned nose. In the series of so-called "sinks of iniquity" which dot the seaboard of the Chinese territory (for it may be safely be assumed that we are pretty nearly alike if the truth must be told), it might be said with certainty that if one were fairly cognizant of the inner movements and motives of Chinese, and placed upon record all he knew (with a dash of what he did not know) of events political and social, the result would be a book big enough in fact and moreover big enough with censure on many, both high and low. We have no intention, however, to become the Ninivite prophet to the various metaphorical "sinks."

The Scriptural duty of clearing one's own vision before attempting the like service to our neighbours is exceedingly appropriate in cases where public morals are "obscured"; and as we twitted our northern contemporaries some time since at the apathy they appeared to show regarding the traffic in women, so condemned by the American journals, it is only fair to inform them and the world (east and west) what the authorities here have done in the matter. If it be only by a side-wind that we and the public learn of these movements, then the more credit should fall to the officials when discreet, and the more discredit when the reverse; at all events, honor to whom honor is due. It is generally known that thirty women left by the Pacific Mail steamer for California, and looking cursorily at the fact it may not be an incident which deserves more than a place in the shipping news. But the plain-spoken journals of California will say that it is not only an evil, but a "social evil" as well; and they may be right speaking what is not far from the truth. All we have to say, so far as the port of Hongkong is concerned, is that everything has been done which the constitution of our laws would permit to place such a traffic on a legally correct basis. That not a single woman of the number stated was subjected to the slightest coercion in order to take a passage, the authorities have the word of each passenger herself; and it is currently reported that in some cases the official interrogatories were even cut short by the indignant expostulations of the female emigrants who had "paid their passage."

Whatever, therefore, the Trans-Pacific journals may have to say as regards their ports on the route—hence to Yokohama, they may rest assured that all which can be legally done to purify the traffic of its alleged hideousness here has been accomplished. Many of the native female passengers who leave Hongkong do so to join their native acquaintances in California as first or second wives; and this cannot well be objected to by those who are so jealous of the mixture of races. At all events, when we know that fair legal interference can effect no more than has been done in the matter, we only do what is proper and reasonable when we give the local Government the credit of "doing" what they could. It will be for the benefit of all at the same time to know that the slightest relaxation of the tight rein over such an exceedingly suspicious opening for outrage will be condemned and exposed on all sides in as plain-spoken a manner as the nature of the subject will admit.

We are glad to be able to announce that the Revision of the Treaty Sir Rutherford Alcock obtained for Hongkong the right of Transshipment, a boon which will we doubt not be acceptable to our merchan-tile friends. A clause has also been introduced empowering the Chinese to appoint Consuls in British territory. If other countries follow the example, our protection as regards Consuls for the protection of Chinese labourers may stand some chance of being carried into effect.

LOCAL.

The subjoined extract from a private letter from China which appears in the Productive Markets Review, will be read with interest as the views of a bystander on the position of the Tea-trade in China:—"Of Chinese shopkeepers and merchants, I come into contact with many, and find them invariably polite and well bred, although they have some habits which we are not accustomed to regard as indicative of good breeding. I have visited and continue to visit very frequently, Chinese, of the above named class, at their houses, and receive visits from them in return; but so grossly materialistic and utilitarian are they, that I do not believe they have any idea of friendship whatever. In the same way, I do not believe they have any idea of a commercial deal, and speaking of commerce, let me tell you I believe that the Chinese are the smartest traders under the sun—as much so superior to a Jew as is one of that race to a Christian. For years past they have been flooding our markets with thousands upon thousands of goods, and so far as present indications go will continue to do so, certainly for an unknown number of years to come. In fact, until the Tea plantations of India make it matter of indifference whether John Chinaman will sell us Tea or not. The money that has been dropped during the last seven years, the great houses laid low, and the ruin that has overtaken many who thought they were securely fortified against such a calamity, are most sad to think of, yet the consequences of playing amusements on the one hand, and the great and substantial benefit of John Chinaman Bankers, brokers, merchants—these three classes, here and in London—lay the blame of one another, and so the ball keeps moving. Tea, like the foreign merchant, is in from 70 to 75 per cent. dearer now than it was fifteen years ago, in the face of your increased consumption, and reduction of duty."

THE NORTH.

By the United States we have Shanghai papers to the 19th instant.

(N. C. Daily News.)
Sir Rutherford Alcock arrived on Saturday 19th in H. M. S. Adventure, and is staying with Mr. W. G. M. We trust he may be able to convince Mr. Wade, before the latter starts for Peking, how unfounded are the hopes of progress under the new regime.

A Peking correspondent avers that a further large cession of territory to Russia, has been lately made by China. Particulars would be interesting. Among other provisions in the new treaty, the Courier learned that the duty on opium is to be raised to 25 per cent., and that on native goods to be lowered.

A rumor was put about some time ago, that Chen had got into disgrace for attending Prince Alfred to Woeung; but this was quite a mistake, as he was specially deputed by the Tsai to go there. The explanation of the report probably is that his Secretary got into trouble at theatre, about this time, and some of the odium reflected on Chen. It is held that Yamen officials should set an example of propriety, instead of getting into rows. The two affairs have probably been mixed up.

We called attention some time ago, to a proclamation issued by the Tsai regarding brothels—threatening to arrest the tenants and confiscate the houses after a certain date. We are informed that this has already had the effect of emptying a large number of houses on the English settlement; the frightened tenants going to the French side, where no such interference by the Chinese authorities is permitted, and where the very posting of such proclamations is summarily stopped. It is likely that, unless some prompt measures are taken, a further large exodus will take place; as to-morrow, is, we believe, the last date of grace fixed by the proclamation.

Sir R. Alcock left yesterday (17th) for the River in the Plymouth Rock, and will take occasion to enquire into the late disturbance at Nanking. The Adventure will be in the river by the 20th inst. Sir R. the Mixed Court Magistrate, left yesterday for the River, in the train of Sir Rutherford Alcock, to aid the latter in his intended enquiry into the recent missionary outrage at Nanking. His place will be temporarily taken by Chang-tsz-yun, an official connected with the Police establishment in the city.

(Rebber.)
The Engineer's trial trip of the No. 3 Gunboat, which was launched a short time ago at the Kiangnan Arsenal, took place on Saturday and was in great success. The distance steamed was about 50 miles, and the revolution attained was 10 knots.
The vessel arrived at 30 per cent. under pressure of steam not exceeding 20 lbs.
The Engines were made by Messrs Inglis and Co., of Glasgow, and are direct horizontal acting of 125 horse power, and can be worked up to 125 revolutions per minute.
The boat has therefore proved herself to be as great a success as her predecessors, combining strength and utility with great speed on a light draught of water. On the return of the boat to the Arsenal, the visitors were entertained by Mr. Falls, the Superintendent, who we hear, shortly leaves for America. In Mr. Falls the Chinese will lose their right hand, and the foreign employee a kind master and friend.
Who is to succeed Mr. Falls we have not yet heard, and think the Chinese will have some difficulty in finding any one to fill it as effectively as he has done.

(Courier.)
The following, we hear, are among the stipulations in the new convention which Sir Rutherford Alcock has signed with the Chinese government.—Coal Mines about the Lan-ho, Keelung and Chinkiang to be worked. Whoooh and Wandoh to be opened. Opium duty increased by 20 percent. Duty on Foreign Coal abolished, and on Native Coal reduced from 4 cents to 2 cents per picul. The convention to be accepted by the other powers before being put in operation.

As we have heard some enquiries as to the Constable's experience of the writer of the article which appeared in the New York Herald signed "James D. Kiernan," we may state that the Constable, who is now in China via Hongkong, is the same who took charge of the U. S. Consulate at Chinkiang, which post he occupied until February 1897, and during that time circumstances rendered him peculiarly qualified to form a sound opinion on a subject requiring the society of judgment necessary for enquiries into the relations between differ-nationalities, while his opportunities for gaining acquaintance with Chinese affairs were of the most unfavorable description.

We learn that the Constable, who has escaped of Ting's adopted son at Soochow has issued in a terrible tragedy—involving the death of no less than seven persons viz., the literary mandarin, two soldiers, two girls, and two servants, who have all been beaten so severely as to cause death.
It is also said that Ting has laid the occurrence so much to heart that he has sent in his resignation.

JAPAN.

The N. C. Daily News correspondent gives some running comments on events in Yokohama, but omits some of the news.
We are glad to learn from the Japan Times that the ex-Tsai and his gallant admiral aide have been pardoned by the Mikado. It is also noteworthy that the Times has discovered another name for the former, who is now called, Tsaiyoon; the Times altered this to Shogun; then to Shobashi, next to Yoshitaka, then he became Prince of Tsurugawa, now he is Keiki. With reference to the charge lately delivered by Sir E. Hornby to the Grand Jury of Yokohama, the Times remarks that legal matters at that port might be better, if it were Mr. Goodwin came on as circuit.

"We have only had three visitations since the Court was established and, at each the pressure of work has been so great, and the time for getting through so brief, that an unusual administrative improvement has been left upon visitors' minds as to the way in which it has been done."

A Belgian Commercial Banking Company is to be established under the charge of Mr.
Moulin, chancellor of the Belgian Con-sulate. This official connexion with a mercantile establishment is objected to. The Austrian franchise is open, but does not seem to excite great interest. The Austrian frigates are in harbour, undergoing repairs. The Mikado's fleet is spoken of as satisfactory of condition, and an effective army is to be made of the Government's youth, for its repair.

A new line of Coaches is about to be put on the road between this and Yedo, under the proprietorship of the original starters of the coach traffic on that line. Messrs.
Rangan & Co., having sold all their old stock of coaches, horses, etc., to a Japanese company, who will run them, in a condition which would bring a smile on the weather-beaten countenance of an old London "Jarry" has imported a number of Express Waggon from America, with the harness, complete.

THE ORIGIN OF CYCLONES.

The Englishman is glad to see that Mr.
H. F. Blanford has published in a separate form, his "Remarks on the Origin of Cyclones." The paper originally appeared in the proceedings of the Royal Society.
It relates to the cyclone of 1st November 1897. Mr. Blanford has brought to bear on the question on the origin of this cyclone, a vast mass of facts, which enables him to speak with great certainty. The cyclone appears to have formed in the South of the Bay of Bengal, somewhere between the Andamans and the Nicobars, in the region designated by Piddington as that where the majority of those terrible storms have their origin. For at least four days before the formation of a cyclone vortex there had been a marked barometric depression over an area described as an elongated ellipse or rough stretching northward from the island of Sumatra along the Western sides of the Nicobars. Over this area the barometric pressure was lower than elsewhere in and around the Bay. There was also a change in the winds.

The birth place of these storms seems to be along the line to the west, and parallel to the chain of islands, Andamans, Nicobars, &c., which form the eastern boundary of the Bay of Bengal. This constancy in their locality of origin seems to point to some general cause which tends to produce in that region a law of atmospheric pressure at those seasons when cyclones chiefly occur.
It is well known that the set of the currents in the Bay varies with the prevailing wind, and looking to this fact, Mr. Blanford remarks:—"If it can be shown that either to a predominance of marine currents from the south, or to any other cause, the water along the eastern side of the bay has a higher temperature than that of the western side during these months, at which cyclones prevail, the increased evaporation thus arising, together with the more elevated temperature it would impart to the atmosphere, would give rise to a diminution of barometric pressure small at first, but becoming more marked with the continued operation of the producing cause, so that after several days it might become capable of causing that extensive inrush of air which appears to be the immediate antecedent of the formation of a cyclone vortex."

VICTORIA REGATTA CLUB.

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING.

First Day, Nov. 24, 1899.

The Sixteenth Annual Meeting of the Club opened this afternoon under most auspicious circumstances. In the first place, the weather—the qing qua non of a successful regatta—was everything that could be desired. There was just that amount of wind to stir the yachts, while it did not give too much of a ripple to the course for the rowers; and as too smooth a course for the latter takes away from the effect of the prettiest part of the programme (the sailing race), it may be said that the moderate breeze was the fairest division of advantage to both sections of the aquatic community. The flagship Norva was as usual with bunting; and from the starting boat was exhibited the flag of the "V. R. C." The usual concomitants of a general picnic were ever present; cargo boats, water boats, and indescribable crafts, lying or cruising about in all directions—observing, however, a fair regard to the "rules of the road," as hinted at last night. The Government and Naval yard steam launches; with the Stearns boat company's Fire Dart and the Little Dragon, were of considerable service; and altogether everything promised well for a good day's enjoyment. A new feature appeared in the Prince Albert, with a party of pleasure-seekers on board. H. E. the Governor and Lady Macdonnell arrived on board the Flag ship shortly after one o'clock; and as soon thereafter as practically, the first race started.

FIRST RACE.—1 p.m. For Single Pair Sculling Boats. Distance 1 mile. Prize $50.00. To be competed for by men who have never won a sculling race in China or elsewhere. Entrance fee, $5.00.

Entries:—Mr. R. Meuser's Agnes, Mr. W.
H. Dalmeida's Mary Queen, Mr. A. H. Benning's Syren, and Mr. A. M'Leod's Titanica.

Three started. They got away fairly, but Benning, who had the outside station, had some difficulty in getting into fairway. Dalmeida led opposite the Coal Stores, closely followed by Meuser (who pulled in fine form); and here Benning got into a fair stroke. The latter, however, gave up shortly after rounding the turning boat; and the race then lay between the first-named two. It was then a race between the relative strength of "muscle" of the two rowers, and the victory fell to Meuser, who, it must be said, pulled in really good form.

Money Orders on any of the Money Order Offices in the United Kingdom will be granted until 5 p.m. on the 24th November.
General Post Office, Hongkong, November 23, 1869.

Post-Office Notification.
9.—Should the Payee of a Money Order desire to receive payment in the Country in which the Order was issued, at some other Office than that in which the Order was originally drawn, the transfer will be granted, provided the Order be enclosed to the postmaster of the Office in which it was drawn, in such case a new Order will be issued, the Commission chargeable, upon which will be deducted from the amount of the new Order.
10.—In the event of a Money Order being lost or being lost, a duplicate will be granted on a written application from the Payee, containing the necessary particulars, and accompanied by an additional Commission to the Office where the Original Order was payable.
11.—On the receipt of a similar application, Orders will be given to stop payment of a Money Order, or to issue a new Order. The additional Commission in the last case will be deducted from the amount of the new Order. Lost Orders must be presented with an application for a new Order.
12.—But when it is desired that any error in the name of the Remitter or Payee should be corrected or that the amount of a Money Order should be repaid to the Remitter, or that a Money Order should be renewed for payment in the Country in which the Order was originally drawn, an application must be made to the Money Order Office of such Country. This application must be accompanied by an additional Commission, unless it have reference to a Lapsed Order, in which case the Commission will be deducted from the amount of the new Order.
13.—Payment of a Money Order, original or renewed, or a duplicate Order, will not be made to the remitter until it has been ascertained that the advice has been cancelled at the Office of which the Order was originally drawn.
14.—Payment of an Order must be obtained before the end of the Sixth Calendar Month after that in which it was drawn; for instance, if drawn in January, payment must be obtained before the end of July, otherwise the Order will become lapsed, and a new Order (for which a second Commission will be deducted from the amount of the Order, will be charged) will become necessary.
15.—If an Order be not paid before the end of the Twelfth Calendar Month after that in which it was drawn, for instance, if drawn in January, it will be considered as lapsed, and the claim to the Money will be forfeited, unless, under peculiar circumstances, the Post Office of the Country in which the Order was drawn think proper to allow it.
16.—After seeing a Money Order by whomsoever presented, the paying Office will not be liable to any further claim. If a wrong payment, however, be made owing to negligence on the part of any Officer of the Post Office, the Postmaster-General of the Country or Colony in which the negligence occurred will, if he see fit, require the Officer in fault to make good the loss.
17.—No Money Order will be paid unless the advice has been previously received.
18.—Additional Rules for greater security against fraud, and for the better working of the system generally will be made as occasion may require.
19.—Should it appear that Money Orders are used by mercantile men, or others, either in the United Kingdom or at Hongkong, Shanghai, or Yokohama, for the transmission of large sums of money, the British or Colonial Post Office of such Country may, by the Commission, and will exercise the power of wholly suspending for a time the issue of Money Orders.

Above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 12 Above 8 oz. and not exceeding 1 lb., 24 Above 1 lb. and not exceeding 2 lb., 36 Every additional 1 lb., 12 Special attention is directed to the following rules and regulations which will be strictly enforced:— A Book Packet may contain any number of separate Books, Almanacs, Maps, or Prints, and any quantity of stationery, vellum or parchment (to the exclusion of letters whether sealed or open); and the Books, Maps, Paper, &c., may be either printed, written or plain, or any mixture of the three.

All legitimate binding, mounting or covering of the same or of a portion thereof, will be allowed, whether such binding be by loose or by other means, as in the case of printed matter, (whether of paper or otherwise), in the case of Books, and in short whatever is necessary for the safe transmission of literary or artistic matter or usually appertains thereto.
Every Book, paper, or other matter, whether on a cover, or in a cover open at the ends or sides, must not contain any letter, open or sealed, nor any sealed enclosure whatever; and the name and address of the sender is however not permitted, but recommended, so that if the cover come off, or for any other reason the packet cannot be forwarded, it may be returned.
No packet must exceed two feet in length, breadth or depth; exceeding these dimensions it cannot be forwarded through the Post.
AS REGARDS PATTERNS.
They must not be of intrinsic value. This rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and indeed whatever may have a value of its own, apart from its mere use as a pattern, as a pattern must not be so great that it can fairly be considered as having on this ground an intrinsic value.
There must be no writing or marks other than the address of the person for whom the packet is intended and that of the sender, a trade mark and numbers, and prices of the articles; otherwise the Packet will be detained or forwarded charged as an unpaid letter.
The Patterns must be sent in covers open at the ends, so as to be easy of examination. Samples, however, of seeds, drugs, and so forth, which cannot be sent in open covers, may be enclosed in bags of linen or other material, tied at the neck; bags so closed that they cannot readily be opened, even although they be transparent, must not be used for this purpose. Non-compliance with this rule will also subject the packet to be detained or forwarded as an unpaid letter.
The Packets or the contents thereof must not contain any incense, sealed or otherwise closed against inspection.
In all other respects, the general regulations of the Book Post, between Hongkong and the United Kingdom will apply to the Pattern Post. Under these regulations, in order to prevent any interruption to the regular transmission of letters, a Packet of Patterns may, when it is necessary, be kept back for the following Mail by which, in the ordinary course, it would be forwarded. The decision of the Postmaster General as to the eligibility of any Packet pattern or sample contained therein, to be forwarded under these regulations, will be final and conclusive.
The rule which forbids the transmission through the Post of any article likely to injure the contents of the Mail Bags, or Boxes, or the person of any Officer of the Post Office is, of course, applicable to the Pattern Post; and a packet containing anything of the kind will be stopped, and sent to its destination. Articles such as the following have been occasionally noted as Patterns, and have been detained as unfit for the Post, viz.: Metal boxes, porcelain and China, fruit, vegetables, bunches of flowers, cuttings of plants, spurs, knives, scissors, needles, pins, pieces of machinery, sharp pointed instruments, samples of metals, samples of ore, samples in glass bottles, pieces of glass, acids of various kinds, curly combs, copper and steel engraving plates, and confectionery of all kinds.

Postmaster General.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.
THIS Medicine is universally admitted to be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. It is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females, while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.
The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Ointment, as it cures after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treatment.

THE ANGLO-CHINESE CALENDAR MANUAL.
A Handbook of reference for the determination of Chinese Dates, during the period from 1860 to 1869; with comparative Tables of Annual and Mensural Designations, &c., &c. Compiled by WILLIAM FREDERICK MAYERS, H.M.C.S.
Author's Preface.
Most persons whose avocations or studies are connected even remotely with Chinese subjects are wont to confess the need of a convenient manual of reference for the purpose of determining dates according to either the European or the Chinese method of computation; and a system of comparison for the names attributed to years, months, and other periods is also frequently a desideratum with translators and readers of Chinese Literature. The compiler of the following tables has thought accordingly, that their publication in a convenient form might be useful, although much yet remains to be done for the elaboration of comparative calendars, etc. that should leave nothing to be desired. With the exception of the Cyclical Table of Years, and the Table of Solar Terms, both of which were originally compiled by Dr. Morrison, and afterwards reprinted with improvements in Williams' Commercial Guide, from which (with some alteration) they are now copied, the whole of the matter assembled in the following pages is for the first time made accessible to general reference.

"The tables in Chap. VII., for estimating prices, measurement of goods, exchanges, &c., have been selected from those constantly in use among the foreign merchants in China. Tables for calculating the prices of tea in dollars or pence have been copied from the more extended tables, by the kind permission of the author, A. Loureiro, Esq. The last section of the book, on 'Movements in Bullion,' has been prepared and furnished for the Guide by Patrick R. Harper, Esq., of the Commercial Bank of India at Hongkong, who has had much experience in the exchanges and movements of the precious metals in Eastern Asia.
"The Appendix of Sailing Directions has been reprinted from the 'China Pilot,' with short interruptions, the coasts from Singapore to Hakodadi are all described in it; and for the Chinese coasts, the Directions have been improved by the insertion of the Chinese characters, for the names of all places that could be ascertained."
